

The Wilp Wilxo'oskwhl Nisga'a (WWN) Institute received historic news late yesterday afternoon from the University of Northern British Columbia.

Two of WWN's Nisga'a Language fluency programs received academic approval from the province of British Columbia's Degree Quality Assessment Board. The two programs are the Nisga'a Language Fluency Certificate and the Nisga'a Language Fluency Diploma Program.

A huge congratulations goes out to the numerous people involved for well over 20 years: Nisga'a Lisims Government, the WWN Board of Governors (Arthur Azak, Chair), Dr. Deanna Nyce and the WWN Team, the University of Northern British Columbia and numerous friends and supporters over the past 30 years who offered unwavering support.

The Late Allison E. Nyce(BA, MA and Phd Candidate), WWN's Funds Development Officer and Head of Research led the design and wrote the language syllabi.

With gratitude and humility,
Deanna
